THE LATEST.

The first surprise of the trial of Harry K. Thaw came yesterday when Justice Fitzgerald, on the motion of District Attorney Jerome and with the consent of the attorneys for the man accused of the murder of Stanford White, announced that two of the jurors selected in the early days of the proceedings would be excused from further service. The jurors excused were Arthur S. Campbell and Harold R. Faure. Late in the afternoon two jurors were secured, making a total of ten now eligible for service.

During the consideration of his amendment to the Agricultural Bill, providing that no part of the sum appropriated shall be paid to any person employed by individual States or municipalities, Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, declared that it was time that the Federal Government went on record in favor of the enforcement of the Pure Food Law by the general Government.

JURORS LET OUT BY AGREEMENT

Two Men Excused In the Harry Thaw Case.

Surprise Sprung on Spectators by Jerome.

A Mysterious Mr. Baker Figures In Proceedings.

TALESMEN DO NOT KNOW HIM.

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Court was adjourned at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Thaw murder trial with just as many jurors in the jury box as when proceedings opened in the morning. They were not all the same jurors, however, two having been excused and two more chosen to fill their places.

The morning session closed with ten men in the box, the tenth being John S. Dennee, thirty-eight years old, a traveling freight agent in the employ of the Southern Railroad. Mr. Dennee is married and lives at 217 East Thirty-third street. He was born in the South and has spent much of his time in Louisiana. With ten men selected to pass upon the guilt or innocence of Harry K. Thaw, it looked possible when court reconvened after the noon recess that the box would be filled before night. When Justice Fitzgerald took his seat, however, District Attorney Jerome sprung the surprise. "Your honor," he said, "after a conference with counsel for the defense, counsel for the people have come to the conclusion that we should ask that Mr. Arthur S. Campbell and Mr. Harold R. Faure be excused from service on the jury. This action casts no reflection whatever on these two gentlemen, as jurors or as men. Your honor knows that similar action has been taken in another case and we ask that these jurors be excused."

Campbell and Faure Excused.

Justice Fitzgerald had evidently been informed that the request was to be made and of the grounds on which it was based. As soon as the counsel for the defense had given their consent, he addressed Mr. Campbell and Mr. Faure and informed them that they were forthwith excused, repeating the assurance of the District Attorney that the action taken was not to be construed as in any way reflecting upon them.

Counsel on both sides determined upon action in the cases of the two jurors at a conference held in the District Attorney's office in the noon recess. Besides Mr. Jerome and Mr. Garvan, there were present Mr. Hart-ridge, Mr. Peabody and Mr. Gleason, of Thaw's counsel, and Detective-Sergeant McConville, who has a wide acquaintance and experience in the Wall-street district. No one present at this conference would say why the two jurors were excused.

Mysterious Mr. Baker.

Questions propounded to several of the talesmen examined to-day by Mr. Jerome or Mr. Garvan made the spectators sit up and take notice. One of the inquiries usually made of talesmen was whether anybody had spoken to them about the case since they were drawn on the panel. Almost always the reply was in the affirmative and the statement has been made that the persons who had spoken to them on the subject had done so only in a casual way.

But to-day several talesmen, perhaps a majority of those examined, were asked if they were acquainted in Cincinnati; if they knew a Mr. Baker of that city, and whether Mr. Baker had approached them regarding the Thaw case since they were drawn on the panel. None of the talesmen had ever heard of Mr. Baker, of Cincinnati. Several of them were also asked if Mr. O'Mara, of Pittsburg, had said anything to them about the case. He had not, they replied. Mr. O'Mara is Roger O'Mara, Pittsburg's former Chief of Police, who has been engaged by the defense to round up certain witnesses who will testify in behalf of Thaw.

One More Juror Secured.

Late in the afternoon both sides got together on David Strother Walker, and he was sworn in. Mr. Walker is a young man about thirty-five years old. He is a son of John Brabben Walker, formerly the proprietor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Mr. Walker's brother, Wilfred D. Walker, in June, 1904, married a chorus girl named Beatrice Frances Dilworth, who was at that time in the chorus of a company presenting the comic opera called "A Chinese Honeymoon" at the Casino Theater. The marriage was not approved by the young man's father, young Walker being at that time only about eighteen years of age, and a suit for divorce is now pending.

Thaw seems to be steadily improving in health and spirits. He appears more and more at ease as the days of his trial go by, and to-day he frequently consulted with his counsel while the talesmen were being examined. The selection of Mr. Dennee seemed to please him especially, and he was obviously urging Mr. Gleason and Mr. Hartbridge to accept the Southerner.

"A Silent, Miserable Group."

All the women of the Thaw family who have attended any of the sessions were present all day to-day. So was May McKenzie. Just before court convened after the noon recess Mrs. Harry Thaw went into the pen and had a few minutes' talk with her husband, returning to her seat by Miss McKenzie before Justice Fitzgerald took his seat. There is little or no conversation among the women in court. They come in a few minutes before court time, take their seats and wait for Harry Thaw's brief nod and smile as he passes them on the way from his pen to his seat with his counsel. The rest of the time they sit in silence, a pale, negative, silent, miserable little group. It does not require the trenchant pen of one of the ablest members of the symposium squad to make it clear that "rich Mrs. Thaw is just a poor old mother."

When court convened in the morning the special venire of 100 talesmen summoned the day before were present. Late in the afternoon the original panel of 200 was exhausted, and the examiners started in with the new list. When the roll of the new venire was called twelve members failed to answer to their names. It will cost them $100 each if they cannot put up a good excuse.

Excused Juror Talks.

When the excused jurymen left the court room to-day they were besieged by questioners. Mr. Faure created a mild sensation in the corridors when he asserted with positiveness that he was utterly in ignorance of any reason why he should be asked to step down. He said:

"The announcement in court was the first knowledge I had of the intended action. In passing through the courthouse corridors this morning I heard a man remark that two of the Thaw jurors were to be excused to-day. I had no idea that the remark could include me. About three years ago when I was connected with a brokerage concern, two detectives from the District Attorney's office, who said they visited the places which sell unlisted securities, dropped in on me, asked some impertinent questions and wanted to know if I would be willing to go up to the District Attorney's office any time I might be wanted. I said, 'yes,' but that was the last time I ever heard of the matter."

Mr. Campbell, the second of the excused jurors declared he "had too much respect for the court to give an interview." It was generally reported that Mr. Campbell had asked to be relieved. He begged to be excused when first placed on the jury.

JURY SELECTED IN CASE OF MRS. MAY

ACCUSED OF KILLING FORMER LOUISVILLE MAN.

THE TAKING OF TESTIMONY WILL BEGIN TO-DAY.

DEFENDANT SELF POSSESSED.

Washington, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—The trial of Mrs. Jennie L. May, indicted on the charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the death of Lucien H. Conen, a former Louisville member of the Marine Band, was begun this morning in Criminal Court No. 1, Justice Stafford presiding. Conen was shot September 27, 1906, and the fact that his death did not occur until more than a year and a day had elapsed made it legally impossible to prefer a more serious charge against Mrs. May. The selection of the jury was accomplished to-day, and the hearing of evidence, by agreement of counsel, went over until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

At the opening of the morning session, the defendant with her husband, Ollie J. May, entered the court room with Mrs. May's attorneys, Creed M. Fulton and Gibbs Baker, before Justice Stafford took his place on the bench. Of all the persons in the court room, few were more self-possessed than the defendant. Her only symptom of nervousness was an occasional fidgeting with her handkerchief and clasping and unclasping her hands, but with it all she showed deep interest in the selection of the jury.

Mrs. May is slightly below the average in height, with sharp features, dark chestnut hair and brown eyes. She was neatly clad to-day in a black tailored suit of the prevailing mode, with short sleeves, long gloves and a black hat and veil, the only touches of color being a red rose in her hat and white lace insertion in the sleeves of her jacket.

Assistant Attorneys Turner and Given were associated in the examination of the jurors and when the box was filled to the satisfaction of both prosecution and defense, Mr. Turner announced that it was understood the taking of testimony would not be begun until to-morrow. He also said United States Attorney Baker intended to personally conduct the case for the Government, and that he will return to the city for that purpose to-morrow.

TWO LABORERS KILLED IN POWDER EXPLOSION.

Fontanet, Ind., Jan. 29.—The press mill of the Leffin & Rand Powder Company, near here, was destroyed by an explosion this afternoon. Jake Garner, twenty-five years old, and Max Rendall, twenty-seven years old, the only employees in the mill at the time, were blown to atoms. The cause of the explosion is not known.

EIGHTY MEN ENTOMBED

Fearful Explosion In West Virginia Mine.

Small Hope of Rescuing Any of the Victims.

Cage In Shaft Demolished by the Explosion.

NO WAY TO REACH MINERS.

Hinton, W. Va., Jan. 29.—An explosion occurred in the Stewart mine this afternoon at 2 o'clock, killing, in all probability, about eighty miners who were at work when the explosion occurred.

The Stewart mine is one of the few shaft mines operated in this section of the State. The shaft is four hundred and fifty feet deep, and the mines have only been in operation about one year. It has been considered perfectly safe, and the cause of the explosion is not known, although some claim it was from the accumulation of dust in the mine. The coal is mined by contract labor, each contractor having his own men. For this reason it has been very difficult to get the names of the miners who were killed. From the best obtainable information, the number working in the mines was about eighty men, and there is a remote possibility that any of them can be taken out alive.

The force of the explosion was something terrific, and there is no doubt that the timbers in the mines are broken and perhaps the roof caved in a number of places. There is no possible way to reach the men until a new mine cage can be built, as the old one was demolished. Removing the men from the mines will evidently be a very slow process, as has been the case in former mine explosions, because of the difficulty to overcome in reaching them. The mine is owned by Samuel Dixon and associates, and is located about six miles from Thurmond, on a branch line of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, and is within two miles of the Parra mines, which exploded February 8, 1906, killing twenty-five men.

The Dead.

Among the dead are: H. C. COLBURN, bank boss, brother of mine superintendent. JOHN DOYLE, fire boss. FRANK D. LIGHT. CHARLES JOHNSON. WALTER BLAKE, married. HENRY LESTER LOVING. FRANK LOVING. JOHN MORRIS, married. JACK JOWN. HACK ATKINSON, married. LEE SKAGGS. TOM WILLIAMS. OTTO CLENNENING, married. GILES MINNER, married. JOHN MINNER. CECIL AND NORMAN KROUSE, brothers.

GRANT HOWLETT. SAM WHISTLER, married. JAMES ESKELEY, married. THOMAS ORANGE, married. WILLIAM MCCLUNE, married. EARL SIMPSON, married. WILL MOODEN, married. RICHARD LEWIS, married. WILL COOK, married. JOHN HAMILTON, married. ISOM, engineer of mine. JESSE ARTHUR, mining engineer. SILAS DAVIS, engineer's helper. UNKNOWN representative of the Sullivan Machine Co. JOHN, ANDREW AND CHARLES QUACK, brothers. JAMES SCHMIDT. BUCK MASSY. RICHARD LEE. ROBERT MCINTYRE. PETE WITT. CECIL LEWIS. JAMES BRADLEY. ENOS BANKS. BOOGEY BANKS. HALL JONES. TOM ESTES. The last ten are colored.

Other than those named there were a number of white American miners who had taken employment in the ill-fated mine at such a recent date that their names are not known among the other miners. There were about twenty foreign miners killed whose names have not yet been ascertained.

FOUR LABORERS KILLED

By Blast On Railroad Work Near Moccasin Gap.

Bristol, Va., Jan. 29.—Four alien laborers were killed and several others injured early to-day near Moccasin Gap, a few miles from Bristol, on the South and Western railroad, by a blast which failed to go off promptly. Three blasts had been set and after the explosion the men returned to the spot, when one of the charges, which had failed to explode, went off, killing four and injuring several others. All the men were working with a railroad construction force.

TAKE A WHACK AT THE GOVERNMENT.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 29.—The Union Pacific and Northwestern railroads have refused to make any special rates to the Government for shipment of soldiers en route to the Philippines and to and from San Francisco, and the Quartermaster's Department of the Department of the Missouri is much disappointed, the officers expressing themselves in forceful language over the action of the railroads.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Although the Union Pacific and Northwestern railroads have refused to make a special rate in connection with the movement of troops through Omaha bound for San Francisco, the Quartermaster General's department will not delay the sailing of the 600 men now under orders for service in the Philippines, while much disappointment is felt at the failure to secure a low rate. The Government already enjoys a military rate of $27.50 from Omaha to San Francisco, as against a commercial rate of $40. By reason of the fact that the Santa Fe, which is a land grant road, is enabled through its connecting lines out of Omaha, to make the rate of $27.50, the other roads are permitted to carry troops for the same fare.

FAMILY TOMBSTONE TO BE AUCTIONED FOR DEBT.

Court Orders Shaft Sold To Satisfy Judgment Rendered To Builders.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Sheriff David Smith has been ordered by the County Court to sell the tombstone on the Boyd family burying grounds, near Kelly, North Christian, to satisfy a judgment of $53.25 secured by Wells Bros. against D. M. Boyd. The tombstone is described as "white granite, four feet tall, thirty-eight inches thick." The plaintiffs hold a lien on the stone. The sale will be at public auction and on the burying grounds.

OLIVER & STEVENS NEW CANAL FIRM

TENNESSEAN SURE NOW OF PRESIDENT'S APPROVAL.

APPOINTEE OF GOV. HUGHES ASSOCIATED WITH HIM.

FIGHT NOT YET ENDED.

Washington, Jan. 29.—William J. Oliver, of Knoxville, Tenn., who bid to construct the Panama canal has been accepted, contingent upon his associating himself with one or more responsible contractors entirely satisfactory to the Government, said to-night that the syndicate he is forming "will certainly meet with the approval of President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft."

Mr. Oliver authorizes the Associated Press to say that he has already entered into partnership with Frederick C. Stevens, president of the Commercial National Bank of this city, who was recently appointed Superintendent of Public Works of the State of New York. Messrs. Oliver and Stevens have established permanent headquarters in the Commercial National Bank building in this city, and upon signature of the contract with the Government, Mr. Oliver will assume charge of the work on the isthmus, while Mr. Stevens will direct the work from this end.

J. M. and A. W. Stewart, of New York city, members of the contracting firm of J. C. Stewart & Company, are in Washington and have been in conference with Mr. Oliver to-day. Mr. Oliver says that Stewart & Company have submitted a proposition to him, but that their offer has not yet been accepted. It is the opinion of official circles to-night that their offer may be accepted. That the fight on Mr. Oliver has not ended is made clear from telegrams he has received from friends in New York and Knoxville. It is understood that petitions are being circulated in New York protesting against the Government awarding the contract for digging the canal, while in Knoxville, he says, an effort is being made to connect him with peonage cases.

RAILROAD INDICTED.

L. AND N. HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER IN HENRY.

Action Marks New Departure In Court's Criminal and Civil Practice.

New Castle, Ky., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Charles H. Sanford, Commonwealth's Attorney of this judicial district, has procured an indictment by the grand jury of the Henry County Court against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, on the charge of involuntary manslaughter. This is the first time that an indictment on that charge was returned against a railroad in this part of the State, and it is believed that it is the first time such an indictment was ever found in Kentucky.

The indictment is founded on the killing of Press Corbin in a railroad collision on the road of the accused company, which occurred several months ago near Sulphur, in this county. If the indictment can be sustained on the charge in the Circuit and Appellate courts, it will amount to a radical departure in criminal practice, and will no doubt affect the civil practice so far as damage suits are concerned.

SWETTENHAM MAKES APOLOGY

Formally Withdraws His Letter to Admiral Davis.

Expresses His Regret For Having Written It.

Matter a Closed Incident at Washington.

PANAMA STEAMER RETURNS.

London, Jan. 29.—The International phase of the Kingston incident has been finally closed by Gov. Swettenham formally withdrawing his letter to Rear Admiral Davis and expressing his regret for having written it.

Swettenham's withdrawal of his letter and his apology followed voluminous telegraphic communications to him from the Colonial Office. The dispatch, which has now closed the incident, was sent by the Governor to the Colonial Office, whence it reached the State Department at Washington through the Foreign Office and Charge d'Affaires Howard in the usual course.

The letter that has caused Governor Swettenham so much trouble was written by him to Rear Admiral Davis, when the latter landed men and supplies at Kingston for relief of the earthquake sufferers. Swettenham was so caustic in his letter that Admiral Davis could only withdraw his men, and sail away from Kingston. Swettenham gave the American naval officer to understand that his assistance was not desired, expressing the conviction that the local authorities were amply able to cope with the situation.

The London Foreign Office was greatly chagrined over the communication, and ever since the incident the correspondence has been piling up. The people of Kingston, including the Mayor, adopted resolutions denouncing the action of Swettenham, and expressing thanks to the Americans for the assistance rendered.

THANKS FOR TENTS.

Secretary Taft Receives Cable Message From Swettenham.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Secretary Taft has received the following cablegram from Gov. Swettenham, dated Kingston, Jamaica: "Most grateful thanks for supply of tents just arrived from Cuba in charge of Capt. Battle, U. S. A. Service most highly appreciated. The tents referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen. Wint on the urgent request made by the acting British Minister at Havana. Officials at the State Department refuse to discuss the report that Gov. Swettenham has withdrawn his letter to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the President has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident so the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time."

CURT RECEPTION

For Panama Steamer When It Arrived At Kingston.

New York, Jan. 29.—The Panama railroad steamer Advance arrived to-day from Colon after landing supplies at Kingston for the earthquake sufferers. The chief of commissary from the canal zone was in charge of the provisions and tents. Fifty-seven passengers were carried from Colon to Kingston, all of whom were canal laborers returning to their homes in Jamaica too look after their families.

Officers of the Advance say the vessel was rather curiously received at Kingston. Efforts were made to charge port dues and it was said, no official appeared to exert himself to accept the offerings brought by the steamer. One lighter load of provisions was capsized and the food spilled in the bay and lost while the officials were disputing with the negro laborers as to payment for their services in handling the goods. The Advance, on sailing, left tons of provisions on the dock.

GEN. BOOTH MAPS OUT EXTENDED TOURS.

His Travels For the Year Will Include Two Visits To the United States.

London, Jan. 29.—Gen. William Booth, the aged founder and head of the Salvation Army, has mapped out travel tours for this year, including two visits to the United States, that might well tax the strength of a much younger man. This evening the General left here for Denmark, Norway and Sweden, where for two weeks he will address two or three meetings a day. On Feb. 23 he will leave London for the steamer Minneapolis for New York. He will spend two weeks in the American metropolis before proceeding by way of Canada to take the steamer Minnesota, on April 1, for Japan. After traveling through the empire of the Mikado, Gen. Booth will go to Peking. He has not yet decided whether he will return to England by the Siberian railroad or via the Suez canal. In any event he will be back in London by July to commence another automobile campaign through the British Isles. At the conclusion of this trip, in the month of October, he will again cross the Atlantic for a two months' tour of the United States.

TOLSTOY'S ILLNESS NOT DANGEROUS.

Son Says He Has Bronchial Trouble, But There Is No Cause For Alarm.

Moscow, Russia, Jan. 29.—A son of Count Leo Tolstoy was interviewed to-day regarding the rumored dangerous illness of his father. He said that the famous Russian author had had an attack of influenza last December, but that he had recovered by Christmas time. Since then he contracted a bronchial trouble, but this illness was taking its normal course, and the patient was not in danger.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a Stockholm paper yesterday carried the report that Count Tolstoy was dying.

SAW THEM KISSING.

DR. HOLMES SAYS HE TOLD FEIST TO BE CAREFUL.

Accused Man Executed the Increased Bail Bond Without Difficulty.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—The most interesting testimony to-day for the dense crowd attending the trial of Dr. Feist was when Dr. W. N. Holmes, who in 1905 had his office in the same building as Dr. Feist, told how one afternoon a few months before Mrs. Mangrum's disappearance he had seen two figures elude him on the frosted glass of the office door. He recognized the parties as Dr. Feist and Mrs. Mangrum. They were embracing and kissing passionately. The witness said he told Dr. Feist next day to be careful when he did such things and Dr. Feist replied: "By God, he did not deny doing it." Dr. Holmes said he saw Mrs. Mangrum come out of the building shortly afterward.

The daughter of Mrs. Mangrum's landlady testified that on one occasion when Dr. Feist paid Mrs. Mangrum a visit there was some underwear there lying upon a couch.

T. J. Stahl, Pullman conductor on the Chicago train on the night of December 14, was called by the defense and identified his signature to a diagram of the car that night, the diagram showing that five people got on the car that night in Nashville.

Witness was showing a report which he made to the company making an explanation of the irregular sale of a berth, in which he stated that he had no recollection of the various passengers and where they left the train. Witness did not write the statement exhibited, but had signed it.

A number of other witnesses were examined, but nothing extraordinary was developed. Dr. Feist executed the increased bond without difficulty.

COMPANY INSOLVENT.

NOW REPORTED DROWNING OF SECRETARY IS DOUBTED.

Following Grain Man's Disappearance President Finds Firm Deeply In Debt.

Princeton, Ind., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—One week ago Henry E. Agar, a former Representative in the Legislature and one of the best-known grain men in Southern Indiana, disappeared from a boat on the Wabash river near Mt. Carmel, Ill. Search was made at once for the body on the supposition that he had drowned, but it could not be found.

To-day the president of the Princeton Elevator Company, of which Agar was secretary and treasurer, and who practically managed the business, appeared in the Circuit Court and asked for the appointment of a receiver.

The indebtedness, he said, is approximately $100,000, and the assets only $30,000. He said he could not account for the complicated condition of the affairs of the company, as there ought to be thousands of bushels of wheat in elevators in which there is none, yet there is nothing to show what became of the wheat if sold or of the money if the grain was turned into cash.

The sensational revelations followed the filing of a suit against the company by a local bank. It is now questioned if Agar was really drowned when he disappeared from the boat.

POWDER IN BOYS' POCKETS SUDDENLY EXPLODES.

Youth Fatally Hurt When He Stands Too Close To Bonfire.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—At Dawson Springs, Ky., to-day, Harry Scott, Douglas Dorris, and James Workman, boys about fifteen years old, went into a coal mine and filled their pockets with blasting powder. They came out later and started a fire at the mouth to keep warm.

As they stood around the fire emptying their pockets a fearful explosion occurred, and the Scott boy was frightfully burned about the face and body and will probably die. His clothing was burned from a mile to his home, where he fell in a faint. The other two boys were also badly burned.

HALE SPURS UP THE LAGGARDS

More Work and Less Talk the Slogan In Senate.

Congested Calendar Worries Rivers and Harbors Men.

Beveridge Finally Concludes Child Labor Argument.

FREE SEEDS WIN THE DAY.

Washington, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Congress seems bent upon doing the work of a whole session during the last few days and nights, especially nights, preceding final adjournment. So far there has been nothing but talk. Not a single one of the great supply bills has become a law, and at present there is nothing to indicate that much work will be done until adjournment is near. Senator Hale, who, in the absence of Senator Allison, has been in charge of the regular appropriation bills, told the members of the Senate to-day that it was about time there was more work and less talk.

He called the attention of the Senate to the fact that he had never known such a congested legislative condition this early in a session, and served notice that he would move for the commencement of night sessions if some of the work was not cleared within the next ten days.

The situation is causing some worry to those interested in the Rivers and Harbors Bill. This measure will be passed by the House before the end of the week, and then goes to the Senate Commerce Committee. It usually stays in this committee for two weeks, and after passage by the Senate comes the conference committee, upon which report several years ago Senator Carter found opportunity to talk the bill to death.

Beveridge Concludes.

Senator Beveridge concluded his speech in advocacy of his Child Labor Bill, which has occupied three days. His argument to-day was devoted to the constitutional power of Congress to prohibit interstate commerce in child-made goods.

The Fortifications Appropriation Bill, carrying $2,641,706, was passed, Senator Perkins securing an increase of $100,000 for the fortifications of the Hawaiian islands.

The Senate agreed to a resolution calling on the Interstate Commerce Commission for its findings as a result of its investigation of the block system of signals on rail

BITTER FIGHT.

Lexington Democrats In Row Over Mayoralty.

UNFAIR DEALING CHARGED BY WILKERSON ADHERENTS.

SKAIN FOLLOWERS DENY GRABBING ELECTION OFFICERS.

SUBCOMMITTEE IS UPHELD.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—This was a warm day in the race for the Democratic nomination for Mayor. When the City Committee met to-day to receive the report of the subcommittee, which had been appointed to choose election officers, Villa Wiley, the representative of Wilkeson, the subcommittee, walked in front of Chairman Moses Kaufman, who was presiding, and who had been a member of the subcommittee, and shaking his finger in the chairman's face, declared he would not be a party to such action as had been taken in the selection of the officers, that he had been given no voice in the selection of the officers and had been treated brutally and discourteously.

Chairman Kaufman took the floor and declared emphatically that all interests had not received fair treatment and the list of officers was adopted by the committee by the unanimous vote of twenty members, Mr. Wiley declining to vote. This afternoon a report was circulated that the Wilkeson followers were so dissatisfied with the division of officers that he would quit the race in disgust and possibly run as an independent.

This rumor proved to be utterly unfounded, however, and at a meeting to-night of the election officers, which Wilkeson will have at each precinct, it was decided to select the very pick of the Wilkeson men to act as inspectors and challengers and depend on them to protect his interest at the polls.

Willa Wiley, the Wilkeson representative on the subcommittee, gave out the following statement this evening relative to what he complains was the unfairness to Wilkeson in the selection of the officers:

"From first to last I had no say in the selection of the election officers, and Mr. Wilkeson, whom I represented, got only six of the men preferred by him."

Choice Ignored.

"The first name of Mr. Wilkeson's list was turned down, and all through the list Messrs. Kaufman and Brown, the majority members of the committee, ignored my choice in each precinct, selecting only the names from the Wilkeson list which suited them. It is true that twenty-three names were taken from Mr. Wilkeson's list, one in each precinct, but all of these but six were second choice and were picked by other members of the committee and not by myself, who was supposed to select Mr. Wilkeson's representatives."

"Mr. Wilkeson gets only one officer in each precinct, while his opponent, Mr. Skain, as can be seen by scrutinizing the list of election officers, has practically three representatives to his one. The trick was turned by selecting officers ostensibly for various other candidates, but who are known to be ardent Skain supporters."

"The trick was so palpable that I called a halt when the sixteenth precinct was reached and refused to act further with the committee. My protest was met with the gratifying assurance that they were in the majority and would appoint whom they pleased. Such treatment was both brutal and discourteous and I characterized it so. If this was not a raw deal, I don't know the meaning of the term."

Called a "Pouter."

Moses Kaufman, chairman of the Democratic Committee, was also chairman of the subcommittee, while Chief of Detectives Malcolm Brown, the third member, represented Mr. Skain. In speaking of Mr. Wiley's complaint this evening Mr. Kaufman said:

"Mr. Wiley is a spoiled child; when he cannot have his way he pouts. His man, Mr. Wilkeson, got a larger representation on the list of election officers than any other candidate. From the list furnished by Mr. Wilkeson the committee selected twenty-three names, one in every precinct while only twelve were taken from the list furnished by Mr. Skain, his opponent."

"Does this list look like a raw deal? It must be remembered that there are seven or eight candidates who are entitled to representation and we distributed the election officers as judiciously and fairly as possible, so as to give each candidate representation."

Suspected of Train Wrecking.

Alex Payne and Dave Davis, colored, were locked up at the police station to-day on a nominal charge of vagrancy, but the real reason for their arrest is that they are suspected of having attempted to wreck the C. & O. train to New York which arrived in this city from Louisville last night at 9 o'clock. The alleged attempt to wreck the wreck, which would probably have resulted in the death of a score or more of passengers, occurred last night about 8 o'clock in the C. & O. yard in the suburbs of this city. The men, it is said, had already placed a heavy iron bar across the tracks and were enforcing this obstruction with planks and beams when they were detected.

Suit Against Bondholders.

James C. Rogers, receiver for the American Reserve Bond Company, which absorbed the Southern Mutual Investment Company, filed suit to-day against 2,700 bondholders of the latter company to recover about $1,250,000. It is alleged in the petition that by reason of the action of the company in paying the defendants large sums of money and certificates for amounts largely in excess of their proportion of the assets and funds, and largely more than they had paid to the company, with 6 per cent. interest added. It is further alleged that by these payments to the defendants the assets and funds of the company were improperly increased, so that the amounts which can be paid to the bondholders are materially lessened.

The petition also recites that on account of the improper payments above mentioned the company has only received about one-fourth of the certificates and members of the company have only received about one-fourth of the money they should have received, and that more than three-fifths of the members and certificate holders of the company have never received any part of the money paid in by them.

Harris Making Inquiries.

The Kentucky Sales Company to-day received a letter from Judge James Harris of Breathitt county, asking that he be sent a full description of the Meadowbrook stock farm, which belongs to the estate of Col. James E. Pepper, and which will be sold publicly on February 9. As this place is a well-known breeding place for thoroughbred horses, it is taken to mean that Judge Harris is interested in his intention of going into this business and eventually having a string of race horses upon the turf.

K. U. Taken Back.

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Association to-day, Kentucky University was taken back into the membership of the association.

It will be remembered that as the result of the football wrangle during the season of 1905 that K. U. was expelled from the Association. Shortly afterward the executive committee passed a resolution preventing the students of Kentucky University from engaging in intercollegiate athletic contests.

It is now understood that the committee will withdraw their restriction and that K. U. will this year have a baseball and probably a football team.

Girls Accused of Theft.

Rhea Burk and Georgia May Ross, two white girls, respectively eleven and twelve years old, were arrested to-night on a charge of having stolen a pocket-book containing $20. This morning in the few hours that the children had the money they had the time of their lives and when arrested they had only $3 left. Each had bought a pair of patent leather shoes and had bought a watch and chain. They blew in $2.50 on penny slot machines and took in all the shows and when arrested were sitting in reserved seats enjoying the moving pictures at the Star Theatre. They are held in detention to-night and to-morrow will be taken before the Juvenile Court.

FALLS DEAD ON STREET.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY—BODY BEING HELD.

Has Card Bearing Name of Vevay, Ind., Man—Coroner's Verdict After Examination.

An unidentified man, about sixty years of age, and wearing a plain black suit, in one of the pockets of which was found a card bearing the name "G. C. Fritzman, Vevay, Ind.," died suddenly at First and Green streets at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Several pedestrians who were passing saw the man as he staggered and fell to the ground in a lifeless heap. He was taken to the coroner's office, but by the time they reached his side he apparently was dead. Dr. Harris Kelly, the coroner, was called, and after viewing the body, had it removed to Boden Bros. undertaking establishment, where it will be held until the identification is made complete. The man can be far as far as the man is known to the people residing in the vicinity of First and Green streets. He was about sixty years of age and wore a scrappy gray beard and mustache. His hair also was gray, while his eyes were dark. His dress was plain and he was a country man. His suit was of black material, though worn and shabby. He had a costly quality. When his body and clothing were examined at the undertaking establishment all that was found was the card bearing the name of "G. C. Fritzman, Vevay, Ind." and his address as Vevay, Ind. The undertakers communicated with Vevay, Ind., and learned that there was a man of the name of Fritzman living at that place. An investigation will be made and Boden Bros. will be informed today whether or not a G. C. Fritzman had resided there. Dr. Kelly will not return until after a full and complete examination has been made. This probably will be done either to-day or to-morrow.

APOPLEXY SUDDENLY FATAL TO DANIEL BREWER.

Aged Carpenter Falls Unconscious and All Attempts To Revive Him Prove Fruitless.

Sudden death came to Daniel Brewer, formerly a carpenter, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon as he was standing on the front steps of his home at 728 F street. Several neighbors saw Mr. Brewer as he suddenly staggered and fell to the ground. He was picked up and carried into the house, but all attempts to revive him failed. The members of his family did not believe him dead, but thought that he had become unconscious from the effects of the fall. Dr. J. B. Stuard, called, but when he arrived Mr. Brewer was dead. Dr. Harris Kelly, the coroner, was summoned and pronounced death due to apoplexy.

Mr. Brewer was eighty years of age and was a native of Kentucky. In spite of his old age he enjoyed unusually good health. Mr. Brewer spent the most part of his life in Jefferson county and Louisville, Ky., engaged as a carpenter. He retired from active work years ago on account of his age. Mr. Brewer was survived by three sons, John Brewer, Henry Brewer and Septimus Brewer. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

HIBERNIANS PLAN HALF HOLIDAY WITHOUT CONSULTING CALENDAR

City Hall Attaches Draw Up Resolution For Council, Then Discover St. Patrick's Day Comes On Sunday.

Daniel E. O'Sullivan, assistant City Attorney, and, as indicated by his name, an Irish desecrated, glowing in his office of the City Hall yesterday afternoon and looked idly out the window. Others of his extraction employed in the City Attorney's office also appeared downcast, and now and then cast a look of sympathy in the direction of the depressed assistant City Attorney. All looked as though they had suffered a great disappointment, and inquiry developed the fact that they had.

They had gone to the trouble of preparing a resolution to be introduced in the General Council, declaring St. Patrick's day a half holiday, and was planning pleasures for the occasion when some one more impulsive than himself decided to take a peep at the calendar. That one peep undid all our plans and left us stranded, as it were. You don't wonder now at our depression, do you?" and he turned away with a sigh.

Fully fifteen persons employed about the City Hall shared the depression of Mr. O'Sullivan yesterday afternoon. All had built high hopes of a half holiday on March 17, and when told that it fell on Sunday would not believe until they themselves had examined the calendar.

"I wouldn't have minded so much had I not gone to the trouble of drawing up that resolution," said Mr. O'Sullivan.

The delegates will then be entertained by a "Mutual Insurance" by E. S. Nail, of Middlesboro, and "The Retailer's Code" by George V. Chavoy, of Louisville. A talk on "Men have been given by James Quarles, of this city.

On the second day of the meeting the election and installation of officers will be followed by the reading of the "Mailed Order" by W. H. Roark, of Greenville, and "The Lumberman and the Contractor" by George L. Tomlinson, of Winchester. A round-table talk on the work of the association will be conducted by Taylor. On the last night of the meeting the delegates and their wives will participate in a theater party at one of the local playhouses.

RAI NOR SNOW PREDICTED BY WEATHER MAN TO-DAY.

Expected Also That Temperatures Will Rise All Over Ohio Valley—Precipitation Will Be Light.

Rain or snow is expected to be the portion of Louisville to-day accompanied by somewhat warmer temperature which may change to colder by to-morrow evening. The rain is given by the preference in the prediction of the weather man with the probability that it will change to snow by this evening. The snowfall, if it comes, however, will not be as heavy, in all probability, as that of last Friday when the temperature was not so high. Above freezing. The advance guard of the storm that is to produce these conditions was hurrying down the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains at day yesterday and late last evening was beginning to make itself felt at Kansas City.

Under the rising temperature of yesterday the snow that has covered the ground and packed hard on the sidewalks rapidly disappeared wherever it was not protected by the shadows. While there was little actual sunshine until late in the afternoon the warmth and the damp atmosphere caused the streets to become soft under foot and in places the walking was most disagreeable. During the greater part of the day the clouds were low-hung and combined with dense fog of smoke made the day gloomy and depressing.

A strong tendency toward rain throughout the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, said Ferdinand J. Walz, District weather of the Weather Bureau, last evening. "In fact, there is considerable probability of rain in all of the river valleys. We do not look for any heavy storms, but light showers that will turn to snow probably by to-morrow or Thursday morning." The melting of the snow has not appreciably affected the stage of the river and it is not thought that it will do so.

CHARGED WITH ROBBING NEIGHBOR'S HEN ROOST.

On a charge of stealing chickens valued at $5 from Nicholas Neff, Edward Grant was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out before Magistrate O'Connor by Neff. The arrest was made by Constable Zimmerman and District Detective Gare. Grant lives at 234 West Main street. Neff is a neighbor. Monday morning Grant is said to have visited the roost of his neighbor and yesterday morning he took place probably some time that he had anything to do with the theft.
